

Eden and the Garden that God Planted Eastward

Introduction:

The Garden in Eden and Adam and Eve's relationship to it is very much an unresolved mystery to most Christians, let alone the unbelieving general society who only have second hand information regarding it. Kings and treasure hunters still today seek to find the location of Eden on planet Earth and their theories are almost in number as the sand granules in the ancient Wilderness of Sin.

This article examines the Genesis account concerned and renders its mysteries by interpreting the scripture passage in its form as an ancient song lines laid down by Adam himself after he was put out into the world following both his and Eve's fall from grace through disobedience.

There is a great truth to be discovered here and we take the reader on a journey that will open before them a panorama of epic proportions about believing the Word of God and our communion with the Lord.

Enjoy.

Geoff Rooke