

The Postal Plebiscite Debate: Has Society Over-Ruled God's Will?

Introduction Paragraph

We have had a look at the real issues raised in God's word about legislating to change the Marriage Act to be inclusive of same gender marriages.

We have taken into account Old Testament Law, the New Testament Gospels, the Constitution and some relevant material relating to overseas countries that have already walked this pathway.

We have noted some failures of organisations that should have demonstrated more leadership on this issue and have mused over the need for a renewed Christian ground-swell to return society back to a biblically based sentiment toward our national identity.

Geoff Rooke